

SUSTAINABILITY COORDINATOR

At GANNI, when it comes to sustainability, being honest is more important than being perfect. We want to be open about our commitment to sustainability and strive to improve every day. As a fashion brand, we view it as our moral obligation. We take a holistic approach, looking at everything we can from the materials we source to make our clothes, how our factories operate to what impact our production has on the environment.

We have an exciting opening within our Sustainability & CSR department. We're looking for a highly structured, detailed and organised individual with a can-do attitude and a passion for sustainability to support our growing business as Sustainability Coordinator.

The position reports to Head of Sustainability & CSR

RESPONSIBILITIES

You will have responsibility for different administrative tasks related to Sustainability & CSR. You will largely be involved with the implementation and management of a transparency tool that measures our material, environmental and social impact, alongside any third party certifications.

You will be integral to helping us shape and deliver our sustainability strategy and will play a key role in supply chain transparency, reporting, and communicating our efforts to the wider GANNI team.

YOUR MAIN RESPONSIBILITIES AS SUSTAINABILITY COORDINATOR WILL INCLUDE

- Data inputting into a sustainability reporting tool like the HIGG index
- Working with our sourcing team to map our supply chain
- Working with the relevant third-party certification bodies to ensure we're meeting the standards
- Maintaining data in various systems to ensure our data is updated on a regular basis and is accurate
- Building relationships internally and ensuring we're communicating our sustainability efforts in a clear and concise way
- Supporting various sustainability projects

ABOUT YOU

You have previous experience in the fashion industry, ideally sustainable fashion with a drive to make positive change.

- You are highly structured and organised with a keen eye for detail
- You are a good communicator and can articulate complex subjects with clarity
- You are results oriented
- You are knowledgeable and have past experience working with sourcing and materials, ideally experience of working with sustainable materials
- You take a proactive mindset and a can-do attitude to any obstacles GANNI may face
- You are fluent in written and spoken English and Danish
- You have a natural flair for data handling and experience working with reporting tools like the HIGG Index
